Let's introduce ourselves

We are going to enforce creating repetition. Start off by saying hello: “Hola!”

How are you: “¿Cómo estás?”

Allow child to answer, even if in their native language.

By placing your hand over your chest or pointing to yourself, say your name:
“Yo soy, ____”

And now ask the child their name:
¿Y tu? ¿Cómo te llamas?

Hola, Yo soy Luna!

Activity 2: Introducing Colors

Veó, Veó - ¿Qué color ves?

Activity

Let's practice repetition! Use this game as a fun look and find to practice color recognition, introducing new vocabulary and counting!

Easy: Cut out the picture cards and spread out on the table. Invite children to point out colors they recognize. If they say the color in their native language, you can repeat back in Spanish recognizing their effort.

Advanced: Read the cards aloud and have child match to the correct picture.

What you need

- Veó Veó worksheet
- Scissors
- Vocabulary KEY

Observe

Is the child pointing out colors?
Is the child able to count the number of colors or objects?
Is the child using new vocabulary?

Pair with a song!

Veó, Veó

Using the song from your songbook, Veó, Veó is an interactive song similar to a familiar game: "I Spy"

Make it fun! Give the child a pair of sunglasses or use the cut-out magnifying glass to find new colors.

Take it further

Grab a bin and fill with winter-themed objects (jacket, gloves, hat, scarf etc...) and use them as tools to introduce new vocabulary.

ex: "Veó, Veó!"

Response: "¿Qué ves?"

"Una cosita!"

"¿Qué cosita es?"

"Es de color... (rojo, verde, amarillo, azul, morado...)"
